FAIL TO FIND
TRAIN BANDIT
NEAR CHICAGO

Gentleman Robber Boards
Fast B. & O. Train and Gets Loot.

WORKS COOLY

Twenty Three Suspects Are Rounded Up By Police
In Search

Chicago, Dec. 21.—No trace has been found today of the suave bandit who boarded the observation car of a fast Baltimore and Ohio passenger train within the city limits and almost under the guns of armed guards, robbed passengers of approximately $1,000. After robbing the passengers the bandit pulled the signal cord for the train to stop and as it slowed up leaped off and escaped in a waiting automobile.

Among the passengers robbed were Mrs. and Mrs. Herbert L. Stansbury of Tucumcari, N. M.; Forest Williamson, passenger agent of the Baltimore and Ohio and M. D. Taylor, also a Baltimore and Ohio passenger agent.

The bandit worked coolly and warned the passengers against disturbances that "would mean his shooting." His loot consisted chiefly of money and jewelry.

Twenty-three suspects had been rounded up by the police early today in their search for the bandit.

The non-chalant and polite methods of the robber were a feature of the hold up. The bandit swung over the rear railing of the train just as it pulled out of the Englewood station. Two policemen were on the station platform and armed marines were guarding the mail car up forward.

"Put up your hands and keep cool," the bandit ordered as he appeared in the doorway of the car. Mrs. Stansbury screamed but became quiet when the bandit assured her she would not be molested.

"Madame," the robber said, to Mrs. Stansbury, "will you please take your children and retire to the other end of the car. I'm not interested in valuables a woman may have."

The robber took $105 from Stansbury; $60 and a gold watch from Taylor and $40 from Williamson.

"Not much," he said as he relieved Williamson of his valuables, "but you look like you could afford to lose it."

As he was going through the car the conductor appeared in the doorway.

"It is quite possible," the bandit said, "that the conductor is armed and if not he can call men who are. That would mean shooting and some of you might get hurt. I don't want that to happen so I'll leave you."

The bandit pulled the bell cord and as the train slowed down, leaped off in the darkness. Children playing in the street near by said they saw him enter a waiting automobile.

ANOTHER MURDER
BAFFLES POLICE

New York, Dec. 21.—The body of a well dressed man about 23 years of age who had been shot to death, was found early today lying in the gutter at 14th Avenue and Sixty Fifth Street, Brooklyn. Police detectives working on the case believe the man was shot to death by a woman in an automobile and his body then thrown into the street.

Several persons living in the neighborhood where the body was found told of seeing a man and woman in a car standing at the curb engaged in a heated altercation. Their loud talking woke several residents. Nobody remembered hearing anything resembling shots. The police believe the running motor may have drowned out the noise of the shots.

HIGHER DUTY ON SUGAR IS URGED

Washington, Dec. 21.—American beet and Porto Rican cane sugar interests asked the senate finance committee yesterday for a duty of 2 cents a pound on Cuban raw sugar, while Louisiana cane producers and manufacturers urged that the duty be made 2.5 cents a pound.

The rate proposed in the Fordney bill is 1.6 cents a pound, an increase of .6 of 1 cent over the Underwood law duty and the same rate as is now in force under the emergency tariff act.

Spokesmen for the American beet and cane interests, in concluding the presentation of their case, declared that their industries were threatened with destruction and would be forced to suspend if the present duty were continued. This would leave the entire American field open to the Cuban industry, they said, adding that events last year when raw sugar went to 22 1-2 cents a pound indicated what would happen to American consumers under such a condition.

Political Circles Stirred by Details of Raid Conducted by Prohibition Enforcement Agents on Dinner In

Boston, Dec. 21.—Political circles throughout the state were stirred today by details of the raid by prohibition enforcement agents on the Quincy house banquet in honor of Governor Channing Cox.

SENATE "IRRECONCILABLES" WILL TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OPINION OF HARDING ON NEW TREATY

President's View On Application of Pact To Homeland of Japan Differs From That of Plenipotentiaries
Who Insist That Latter Nation Proper is Included
Among Insular Territories.

Washington, Dec. 21.—The small band of senate "irreconcilables" planned today to take full advantage of the situation that has arisen out of the different ways in the White House and the state department have interpreted the new four-powered treaty of the Pacific.

Even the president's statement, late last night, that he has no objection to the construction which the American delegation has put on the treaty—that it covers the homeland of Japan—did not allay the widespread concern that manifested itself in senatorial circles.

In the president's personal opinion as outlined to newspaper correspondents, the principal islands of the Japanese empire are not to be regarded as included among the insular territories to which the treaty applies.

The American delegation, on the other hand, agreed with the representatives of the other powers before the treaty was signed, that the principal Japanese group was to be covered under the agreement along with all the other Pacific islands under the sovereignty of the United States Great Britain, France and Japan.

In his formal statement, issued after a two-hour conference with Senators Lodge and Underwood of the American delegation, the president said he had "no objections" to the interpretation agreed to by this government's plenipotentiaries, but assumed that the spirit of the conference contemplated respect for territory—in every way that would promote peace.

The president's original announcement of his views created a stir among the delegates of all the powers, and although none of them was willing to take issue with him, there were intimations that such an interpretation of the treaty was certain to be challenged eventually from several quarters. His later statement generally was accepted by the foreign representatives as having determined definitely the attitude of the American government.

Senator King (Democrat) of Utah, declared the United States would be "guilty of a flagrant act of perfidy" toward Japan if it refused to recognize the four-part treaty as insuring the political and territorial integrity of Japan herself.

Fresh from conference with Baron Admiral Kato and Vice Admiral Kato, two of the Japanese participants in the conference, Senator King said the Japanese would be "bitterly disappointed" if the treaty was not interpreted as applying to the Japanese homeland.

"Japan agreed to the treaty, and her delegates to the conference signed it, with the expressed understanding that the term 'insular dominions' in article 1, applied directly to Japan herself."

Senator King said, "The American delegates so interpreted it. Both Secretary Hughes and Senator Lodge, senators who informed authoritatively, took that view of it. British spokesmen stated officially that no other construction could be placed on it."

"And I am sure, the Japanese are amazed to find the president expressing an opinion which, I understand, is not shared by any of the members of the conference or by any of the delegates who signed the treaty."

TWO WOUNDED

Belfast, Dec. 21.—Two men were wounded in another outbreak of disorder here today. One was a news agent, the other a publican. The former will probably die. Heavy forces of police and soldiers are patrolling the streets to keep down sniping.

WAR IS DECLARED IN RUSSIA AGAIN

Helsingfors, Dec. 21.—The far east republic, whose seat of government is at Chita, in Siberia, has declared war against the republic of Vladivostok, according to information received here today.

The Moscow soviet is giving assistance to the Chita government. Recently a high officer of the red army was sent to Chita to assist the far east army to defend itself against the "white" forces. Moscow alleged that Japanese soldiers were assisting the "white" or anti-bolshevik forces.

A SPEEDSTER IN HER DAY

Here is the old sailing vessel Cutter Sark, now the Ferriera, owned by a Portuguese firm. She was built in the Clyde in 1869, with iron framing and wooden planking. She was one of the most famous ships in the British Mercantile Marine and used to make some extraordinary passages and once broke all speed records (in 1873). Her usual average was from Sydney, Australia, to Liverpool in seventy seven days. She has been known to do over fifteen knots, which is as fast as a good many modern passenger liners.

Irish Peace Treaty to Be Submitted To Public Vote

Sinn Fein Parliament Will Not Ratify Pact It Is Stated
On High Authority—Plea Is Made By Supporters at Meeting

London, Dec. 21.—It was predicted by the highest possible political authority in London this afternoon that Dail Eireann will not ratify the Irish peace treaty and has already decided to submit the question to a national vote.

Dublin, Dec. 21.—The Sinn Fein delegation accepted the Irish peace treaty as the result of a three-hour ultimatum from Premier Lloyd George which did not give them time to consult their colleagues in Dublin, it was revealed in Dail Eireann today by G. Gavin Duffy, a member of the delegation.

Duffy told of the powers the treaty would give Ireland, saying: "The pact gives Ireland power to control her own government as well as to resist military aggression. Our government has the power to renege the king of England, to the outer darkness if it desires."

There was an angry exchange of words between E. J. Duggan, another of the Sinn Fein peace delegates and DeValera.

"We could not have evaded our responsibility on the night this agreement was accepted," said Duggan. "Now you must be responsible to the country."

"The treaty gave almost everything Irish patriots died for. No combination of deputies is entitled to send the Irish nation to its death."

Duggan is chief liaison officer of the Irish republican army.

DAVIS TO DECIDE WHETHER RUTLEDGE
WILL BE CALLED

Proceedings Against Deposed State Official Up To Governor.

Columbus, Dec. 21.—If criminal prosecution is instituted against Rev. John S. Rutledge, Cleveland, deposed state superintendent of pardons and paroles, such proceedings are up to Governor Davis State Welfare Director Macayael declared.

Although neither the governor nor Attorney General Price would comment on the report that suit may be brought against Rev. Rutledge, the attorney general stated the claim that Rev. Rutledge had submitted false expense accounts to the state had not been presented to him officially.

Governor Davis has photographic reproductions of Rev. Rutledge's application for a minister's half fare certificate, a letter from the Union Station ticket agent, Cleveland stating Rutledge used the clergy fare certificate Sept. 6 and 12 and Oct. 11 and 16; also a letter by the state welfare department's fiscal supervisor declaring Rutledge put in expense accounts for full fare covering these four trips.

The state law prohibiting falsifying expense accounts provides for a $200 fine and not more than 30 days imprisonment or both, where the amount fraudulently obtained is less than $35. Each fraudulent expense account is deemed a separate offense. Another law decrees that obtaining money under false pretenses is a felony.

Washington, Dec. 21.—The semi-rigid airship Roma, purchased by the United States from the Italian government, was due to arrive at Bolling Field here shortly after 11 o'clock today for its first official flight. Secretary of War Weeks, ambassador Riccio, of Italy and other officials will take part in the flight from Bolling field.

GIVE TESTIMONY OF SOLDIER'S DEATH

Washington, Dec. 21.—The shooting to death of a private at Camp Wheeler, Ga., in June 1918 by a corporal was testified to today before the senate committee investigating Senator "Tom" Watson's charges of illegal killings in the army during the war period.

Marion J. Wallis, of Athens, Ga., charged that "a corporal named Crawford shot in the back a private named Hally of Tampa, Fla., after another corporal named Florence had struck Hally with a club and broken one of his wrists."

SAY PRINCIPALS
NOW IN EUROPE

Warsaw, Dec. 21.—Although part of Wolfe Lindenfeld's statement has been discredited sufficient information has been secured to establish that the principals in the Wall street bomb plot in Sept. 1290 are now in Europe. It was stated today by the chief of the Polish secret service.

"Many of Lindenfeld's statements are unreliable," said the police official, "but certain details are correct. It has been established that the principals in the plot and those who engineered the explosion now are unreliable," said the police official, "they will be arrested."

Washington Conference
Cannot be Over January

NEED MORE TIME

Activities, Wednesday, Languish While Delegates
Prepare for Thursday

Washington, Dec. 21.—Nearly all hope had fled today that the armament conference can finish up its work and be out of Washington by the first of the new year, the tentative goal set by the leaders.

At every turn the conference has reached a temporary impasse, and while belief in ultimate agreements is well high unanimous, it is recognized that a great deal more time will be required to dispose of all the vexing problems still confronting the delegates.

Today's conference activities languished, while the delegates made preparations for a resumption of the diplomatic trading tomorrow.

The French were busily engaged today in formulating the program of submarines and auxiliary ships which they will demand from the conference as compensation for giving up their ambitious capital ship program. Admiral Dehon, the French naval expert, had the skeleton of a program direct from Paris and he and his experts were whipping it into shape for presentation to the powers.

There were increasing evidences today that the war over the submarine allotment is to be a bitter one, with Great Britain making a lone fight for their complete abolition. Having yielded on the capital ship issue, the French delegates stoutly declare they will not budge an inch where submarines are concerned, and that the powers here with have to allot France an "adequate" force of defensive fighting ships to protect her coast lines and colonial possessions.

What France considers to be an "adequate" submarine force, her delegates decline to state publicly, but her experts have indicated they will demand at least 50,000 tons of undersea fighting craft as the minimum of French requirements.

Question of German Indemnities Is Not Yet Solved.

London, Dec. 21.—A strong possibility developed today that Premier Lloyd George and Premier Briand would not reach any definite decision on the German indemnity situation.

It was admitted that only slight progress has been made to date because of the divergent views among the experts on vital matters concerned with German indemnity.

A further hindrance to a decision is dissatisfaction on the part of Italy and Belgium because their premiers were not invited to the London conference. Italy and Belgium hold that they are both concerned over Germany's default of indemnity payment due in January and February and should be consulted on any steps taken. It is more than ever probable that another conference much broader than the present one will be called to consider both German indemnity and economics in general.

HARDING SKEPTICAL OF HAYS RESIGNING

Washington, Dec. 21.—President Harding has not received any suggestion "whatever" of the rumored retirement of Will Hays as postmaster general, it was announced at the White House yesterday afternoon. It has been rumored in political quarters here that Hays has resigned in order to accept the directorship of a moving picture combination, at an annual salary of 100,000.

It was further stated that President Harding does not believe that Hays will resign and "would be very reluctant" to see his retirement.

Make This a Brunswick Christmas

An ideal addition to the Christmas festivities is a Brunswick, for it brings to each member of the household his favorite music in the intimate atmosphere of the home.

And note, too, that there is no reason, when buying a phonograph, to be satisfied with anything short of a Brunswick—for prices and terms on Brunswick are the same as those of other instruments.

Exclusive Features

Brunswick plays all makes of records without attachments. This means that with a Brunswick in your home you can enjoy all the great artists regardless of the make of records for which they record.

This is accomplished by the Ultona—a part of The Brunswick—not an "attachment."

Another exclusive Brunswick feature is the Oval Tone Amplifier or horn, made entirely of wood and moulded like a fine old violin. It is responsible for much of the wondrously beautiful Brunswick tone.

ENTERTAIN AT DINNER TUESDAY.

One of the happy social events of Christmas week was the dinner given at Maple Lawn, Jamestown, Tuesday, when Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lackey entertained forty of their friends, at dinner.

Among the number were six of the prominent ministers of the county, with their wives, from Xenia, Cedarville and Jamestown. A five course dinner was served, which was both delicious and bountiful. Mr. and Mrs. Lackey's charming daughters assisted in serving.

The decorations throughout the rooms of the Lackey home, were handsomely appointed. Scarlet carpets were laid on the porches, and small Christmas trees were placed in the entrance.

The tables were festive in their appointments, Santas being the favors, and Christmas place cards at each cover. Old conundrums were used in entertaining the guests.

On the center table was a mound of glistening snow, surrounded with green with a path leading from it, up which "old Santa" walked, coming to the Christmas tree, which was the central figure of the whole design.

During the social hour, Mr. Lackey gave a short talk of welcome, and expressed his gratitude over his recovery from a serious surgical operation. Dr. Lackey, a brother of Mr. Lackey was present, and the only note of regret was the unavoidable absence of Dr. B. R. McCallan of Xenia.

Mrs. C. P. Proudfoot gave a reading from one of the James Whitcomb Riley poems, and for an encore, gave an impersonation of "Gestures." Mrs. J. P. White of Cedarville, gave descriptions of Christmas in Egypt, and the customs of the copts, mentioning the missionaries in that land of the ancient Nile.

The Rev. L. L. Gray, led in the singing of the twenty-third Psalm. Dr. D. D. Dodds, closed with prayer.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Lackey, was their daughter, Mrs. Faye Peterson, of Xenia, and the Misses Margaret and Myrtle Lackey. Mr. and Mrs. Lackey will receive a large company Thursday, December 22.

Miss Mary Zeiner, arrived Wednesday from Chicago College, where she is a student, to spend the holidays, with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zeiner.

SOCIAL SERVICE REPORTS FAVORABLE RESULTS COMING

Replies daily are being received by the Social Service League workers, from different parts of the city and county, in answer to the "opportunities" cases of families that are in need of Christmas cheer, which appeared in the Gazette-Republican.

The cases given have afforded a choice for those who wish to give, and each family chosen as "a worthy opportunity" will be included in the contributions, it is thought. Contributions of clothing have been received at the Social Service League Headquarters, together with food, and articles that will bring gladness to the needy families. So far the results of the publicity are considered quite successful, but with Christmas several days off, the workers are urging everyone to aid in making contributions for the families.

U. S. MUST CALL NEW CONFERENCE

Washington, Dec. 21.—A conference of all the nations in the world probably will have to be called by the United States for the purpose of securing an agreement on the question of limiting the construction of naval armament, a spokesman of the British delegation stated today.

Clauses in the Hughes proposal which bind nations party to the agreement not to sell existing warships to nations outside the agreement or to construct new warships for other nations have raised a question as to the effectiveness of the Hughes plan which probably can be settled only by a general world agreement, it was stated.

WILLOOT TOOK IT FOUR YEARS AGO

Has Enjoyed Perfect Health Ever Since Tanlac Built Him Up So Wonderfully.

"Tanlac set me right four years ago and I have enjoyed splendid health ever since," said John F. Wilmot, 933 Jones St., Detroit, Mich. Mr. Wilmot is only one of many thousands who have testified to both the immediate and lasting results obtained from the use of the Master Medicine.

"It has been a good while now since I had any physical ailments, but I remember as well as if it were only yesterday how run down and miserable I felt before Tanlac straightened me up. My stomach and digestion were all out of fix, and I could not sleep well either, and always felt as bad on getting up mornings as when I lay down at night. Up to this time I had always been strong and well and it nearly worried me out of my wits to find myself going down hill so rapidly. I lost weight and got to be so run down that my friends were wondering what was the matter with me.

"So I became alarmed and in my efforts to find something to right myself I ran across Tanlac and it couldn't have done more for me if it had been made especially for my case. Tanlac helped me right from the start and when I finished my fourth bottle I was eating good, sleeping like a child and feeling fine. Tanlac built me right up and put me back to where I was before my troubles started—in the best of health and, as I said, I am still feeling fine. To me there's nothing equal to Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill, and leading druggists everywhere.

SPEND LESS THAN YOU GET, AND YOU HAVE THE PHILOSOPHER'S STONE.

Honest old Ben Franklin was wise in many directions, but nothing that he ever said was more true than this: "Spend one penny less than they clear gains; then will thy creditors not insult nor want oppress, nor hunger bite."

Christmas Saving Clubs have become very popular, and deservedly so, for they seem to make it easier to economize with a laudible end in view. We have local illustration of the advantages gained by this method of saving. Thrifty persons are taking advantage of the new way of putting away dimes and dollars for a given future purpose.

Thirty-one Philadelphia banks have sent checks for $2,749,192 to 72,150 thrifty Philadelphians during the last twenty days, the year's accumulation of weekly savings of from five cents to $50 in Christmas clubs.

Two-thirds of this sum will be spent this month in holiday shopping, bankers believe. The remainder has been transferred to savings accounts paying 3.65 and 4 per cent, and it is estimated that the number of new accounts has never increased so rapidly as recently.

Nearly 40,000 persons have already joined Christmas clubs for 1922 and paid initial installments. The largest banks report more members than had joined 1921 clubs a year ago. The desire to save is far greater and many new applicants, as well as nearly all previous depositors, promise to save a certain amount weekly throughout the coming year. Nearly every previous club member who has signed for next year will save twice last year's figure.

AWAKENING AMERICAN SURGERY.

The best thing about the American visit of Dr. Lorenz, the famous Austrian surgeon, is not the wonderful cures he is making himself, but the way he is advertising American surgery.

"I am amazed," he says, "to think that the American people have not gone to their own surgeons. These people have come to me for help, when their own fellow countrymen could help them just as well. I am glad, however, if I have aroused patients and the parents of patients, out of their indifference."

"All my American colleagues are experts in orthopedic surgery—there are no better in the world. They are leaders in many directions, and I do not claim to be superior to them. On the contrary, I have learned much from them, and continue doing so."

Yet poor old Dr. Lorenz is still mobbed by clamorous crowds, and tens of thousands, all over the country, lament that they cannot reach him.

This great Austrian surgeon is modest. Perhaps he is the best man in the world in his line, "bloodless surgery." It is agreed that he is unrivalled in diagnosis of certain ailments of the limbs and spine. But there is no room for doubt that American surgical skill is capable of handling nearly all of the cases pressed on Dr. Lorenz as capable as he is, and that there is here a greater quantity of such skill, more widely distributed, than can be found in any helpful work for crippled Americans when he directs them to their own practitioners.

OHIO DEPENDENT UPON ITS NATURAL GAS, PRICE SAYS.

The dependency of the state of Ohio on its supply of natural gas has just been painted in vivid pictures before the United States Supreme Court by Attorney-General John G. Price, of Ohio.

The future prosperity, welfare and health of the inhabitants of 300 Ohio cities and towns, which are supplied by natural gas from the fields of West Virginia, depend upon a continuance of that supply, Price told the court.

His declaration came during the hearing of the suit of several states, including Ohio and Pennsylvania, to enjoin the state of West Virginia from enforcing the Steptoe Act, enacted in 1919, which would regulate through a commission the natural gas supply which may be transported outside of West Virginia.

Unless a permanent injunction against the Steptoe Act is granted, all natural gas produced in West Virginia will be consumed within that state by industrial concerns and households before the domestic users of Ohio, Pennsylvania and other states can obtain a foot, Price declared.

He told the court that 4,000,000 persons in Ohio—three-fourths of its population of 5,750,000—would be cut off from the use of natural gas. He said there are about 650 towns in five states entirely dependent upon West Virginia gas, distributed as follows: Ohio, 3000; Pennsylvania, 300; Kentucky, 25; Indiana, 15, and Maryland, 14.

"Fifty per cent of the natural gas consumed in Ohio is imported from West Virginia," Price said.

TWO SCOUTS.

It is a dark and dismal day; the wind is keen, the skies are gray, and rain, of many cheap-john sorts, comes down by gallons and by quarts, and people, splashing through the mud, hand out remarks that chill the blood. And Mr. Cheerup cries, "Hooray! Unpleasant things will pass away; tomorrow will be bright and fair, with sunshine glowing everywhere, and we'll enjoy our bliss the more because today seems quite a bore. We must have rain and slush and sleet to make our better days complete." And Mr. Killjoy says, "My friend, this doggone rain will never end; and if it does there'll be a freeze and we'll have green pains in our knees. The weather's hourly growing worse, and he is wise who hires a hearse; there'll be an outbreak of the flu, and that will put an end to you." We hear him spilling in the rain, and feel that everything is vain, and when at last we reach our homes we're shooting spasms in our domes, and rheumatism here and there, and mumps, and falling of the hair. Thus these two scouts go up and down; one tries to cheer the weary town; the other journeys to and fro, and scatters stove-length chunks of woe.

THE DARK SIDE OF THE DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

Xenia merchants are expecting a grand rush of holiday buying this evening. Several large payrolls today, will put plenty of money in circulation, a very large portion of which will undoubtedly be spent in Xenia.

The steam pipes connecting with the court house are in place and the steam is being conveyed to the new structure, giving the workmen a change to work in comfort.

The present cold weather has made the ice splendid for skating and the young people are making good use of the time, outside of school hours, even enjoying the pleasure by moonlight.

Mr. Leslie J. Dodds, a Xenia boy, who for the past ten years, has been with Wilson Brothers of Chicago received a nice Christmas present from the firm in the way of an increase in salary.

Charles Schmidt, Clarence Tate, Clarence Frazer and Millen Davidson are visitors in Cincinnati, today.

PRETTY NECK

A few days ago we were talking about massaging the neck with cocoa butter to overcome the series of wrinkles so apt to appear on even a youthful throat. The cocoa butter is valuable not only for filling out these wrinkles but also for fattening a thin neck. It can even be used to fill out hollows in the shoulders, but this is a tedious process and had much better be done by exercise.

No neck is pretty if the skin is not clear in color, if the neck is not held well or if it is either too fat or too thin. You can use the daily cocoa butter massage to fill in wrinkles and to help make the neck plump. You can make a fat neck slender by reducing your body until you weigh only as much as you should for your height and your age. You can make the skin fresh and clear by using a cleansing cream and by wearing only washable white material around the throat. If there are brown lines around the neck or if the skin is a bad color it is probable that tight collars have been rubbing or irritating you, or that the dye from your dresses has been rubbed off into the pores of the skin.

If the head is not held properly the neck is apt to develop a little curve in front which is anything but attractive. There is a little bone at the back of the neck above the shoulder blades which is very sensitive and very easily displaced. This often stands out like a little lump and quite ruins the neck line.

You can get this back into position by pressing it with your hands and by holding the head high. If it seems particularly obstinate an osteopath could put it into place in a very few treatments.

Louise—Blond hair that is slightly oily always has this tendency to get dark near the roots. Shampoo the hair with castile soap every three weeks, and put a little lemon juice in the rinse water. Dry the hair in the sun whenever possible.

Alice—You can take yeast cake in candy form if it is easier and pleasanter that way. Personally I don't think it makes any difference. Most people benefit if they take three cakes of yeast every day, because they purify the blood and act as a laxative.

Tomorrow—Breathing for Beauty.

THE MONGREL

He came just as darkness was falling its way into the night, this dog with a strain of the terrier and the spaniel in his veins.

A storm was on. Rain beat in torrents against the window panes. And it was only by chance that the scratching knock of the little fellow was heard. But it was heard—and the stranger was given a royal welcome by the boys who let him in.

He had the energy of miniature Niagara and the joy of a laughing sunbeam.

Friendship with him was first nature. His dancing eyes seemed to compose poem after poem, while his restless ears fairly tangled the waves of the air as he romped and jumped. Play was life to this wanderer from somewhere.

Morning came with the passing of the storm. A warm sun welcomed the visitor. When he went to tell him "good morning," he answered back with many wags of a tail and an understanding whine and bark that seemed to translate over and over again: "Thank you, I had a good rest—I'm glad I came, but I want to get OUT!"

Just then another one of his kind was spied across the street. With a desire that was almost frantic he begged at the door. The call of the tramp was on. We watched him dash to his friend while each wagged a happy greeting. And then another of his outdoor family called to him from his passing automobile. The last we saw of him was a speck of a tail a quarter of a mile away turning a corner down the street—vanishing into a mere memory.

But his brief stay was well worth while. For he was all laughter and friendliness.

How very wonderful it is to leave behind us nothing but joy and happy memories! To be always welcome wherever we go—and to stay just long enough!

Unacquainted with fame or fickle fortune—but loved nevertheless, because of the simple ability to distribute happiness and tint the air with a lovely influence.

I hope that the little mongrel will come back again some day.

Styles BY LENORE

Brown is undeniably a favorite color in tailored clothes this season. In coats and in suits, in cloth and in crepe dresses, too, it has been featured in the smartest shops of Paris and New York. And if you build your clothes plan on dark colors, are tired of navy and do not like black, you will find dark brown an excellent alternative. In a soft material like velvet or duvetyne, chestnut brown—or the darker shade known in recent seasons as tete de negre—is usually becoming to most types, and often even flattering. And, too, it is not a difficult color to which to match accessories.

In the frock shown today, brown is combined with a dark shade of red, visible at the cleverly planned joining of skirt to bodice, and through the slash bishop sleeve. It is velvet that is used in this frock, with crepe ribbon, and the collar may be buttoned high, or omitted altogether, finishing the bodice with a bateau neck and pleasant opening down the front.

Cinema and School Children A plan has been under way for many months in Toledo to get suitable motion pictures for children. The plan, fostered by the Toledo federated club women, now bids fair to prove unqualifiedly successful. Beginning with Saturday Dec. 10, a childrens matinee will be conducted every Saturday morning in one or more Toledo picture houses. The board of education will co-operate with the club women in the promotion of these school soirees to the extent that teachers will announce the weekly programs to their pupils every Friday. Such pictures as the Edgar comedies will be screened. Such classics as "Alice in Wonderland," "The Vicar of Wakefield," "Little Orphan Annie," "Sinbad the Sailor," "Huckleberry Finn," "Treasure Island," "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" and "The Prince and the pauper" have been booked.

Sorosis Day in Cleveland Members of the Cleveland Sorosis club always call Thursday Sorosis day. Since the addition of the new Department of history and civil government and the revival of activity in the music and drama departments morning and afternoon sessions are held and noon-day luncheons conducted. An event of which the club feels justly proud was the William Jennings Bryan lecture. The proceeds went to the building fund. While the Sorosis club is the owner of the club home, it is looking forward to building a new auditorium which will be needed to take care of rapidly-increasing membership.

Clubs Active in Marion More than 3,000 school children, defying a driving rainstorm, last Saturday took advantage of the Delphian club's cinema venture, all bringing apples, potatoes, used toys, etc., to pay the price of admission with the result that more than three big truck loads of provisions were turned over to the Salvation Army for distribution among the city's poor. Included in the school children's offering for charity were 85 bushels of potatoes, 10 bushels of apples, glasses of jelly, 71 cans of fruit and lots of warm clothing.

Jan. 2 the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs will conduct a silver tea party in the afternoon for benefit of its proposed club home and in the evening there will be cards and dancing. Musical programs will be given both afternoon and evening. The affair will be held at the Elk's home.

The Marion Child Welfare league have an americanization party the first week in January.

Ralph P. McKenzie, Lima, lectured before the Marion lecture-recital club members and their friends in the parlors of the Epworth M. E. church last week. His subject was Opera in America. He paid a glowing tribute to Caruso and said that America would never become an operatic center until Americans "felt their music."

Ohio Federation Notes "The First Mrs. President and Her Cabinet" is the title of a one-act play written by Mrs. C. A. Prentice, community service chairman of the Colorado State Federation of Women's Clubs. There has been such a demand for the play among club women that it is now being published for distribution. Application for it should be made to Mrs. Alce A. Fulton, No. 1268 Acoma street, Denver, Colorado. At Logan the Tourists club purchased 25 books which were placed on a rental shelf at the public library. These were rented to patrons until the cost of a book had been paid. Within a remarkably short time enough money was received in this manner to pay for all the books and to procure three times as many more.

RULING OF PRICE

ON ALCOHOL SALE

DISTURBING HERE

Local garage owners, and automobile and auto accessory dealers are "up in the air" over the ruling of Attorney General John G. Price, that denatured alcohol can only be sold by druggists.

Attorney General Price has ruled that denatured alcohol is a poison and under the Wendt law, must be sold only by druggists. The ruling affects practically every garage and auto accessory dealer, who have been dispensing the denatured alcohol in use in automobile radiators to prevent freezing.

Local druggists have received announcement of the ruling of the Attorney General from Pharmaceutical Association. According to pharmacists here, when denatured alcohol was first put on the market, in 1907, it was necessary for druggists even, to have a federal permit to dispose of the product. Later that became unnecessary and as the time passed, and the use of the alcohol in automobile radiators became valuable, the sale of the product was taken up by the automobile men.

Those dealers who are affected by the ruling, have been given until January 15 to comply with the order, it is said, locally however, that automobile men will fight the ruling. It is anticipated that the automobile men will make a test of the decision.

A penalty of $50 to $200 is provided for violation of the law, which it is said, will bring considerable business to druggists which has been distributed among garages and accessory men.

Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson has not received a copy of the ruling, and has not been officially informed of the order.

GOING IT TOO HARD?

Overwork, worry, overeating and lack of exercise and sleep are responsible for much kidney trouble. If your back aches and the kidneys seem weak, rest up and use Doan's Kidney Pills.

Leonard Jones, car inspector, Home Ave., Xenia, gave the following statement Aug. 2, 1917: "Heavy lifting and working in a cramped position while repairing cars brought on lumbago. I was stiff and lame across the small of my back. After I had worked in a cramped position for a few minutes I could hardly straighten up. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and began to use them. They certainly proved to be the medicine I needed for I began to get better immediately and after using a few boxes was rid of this attack. Since then I have resorted to Doan's at the first symptom of lumbago and they quickly relieve it."

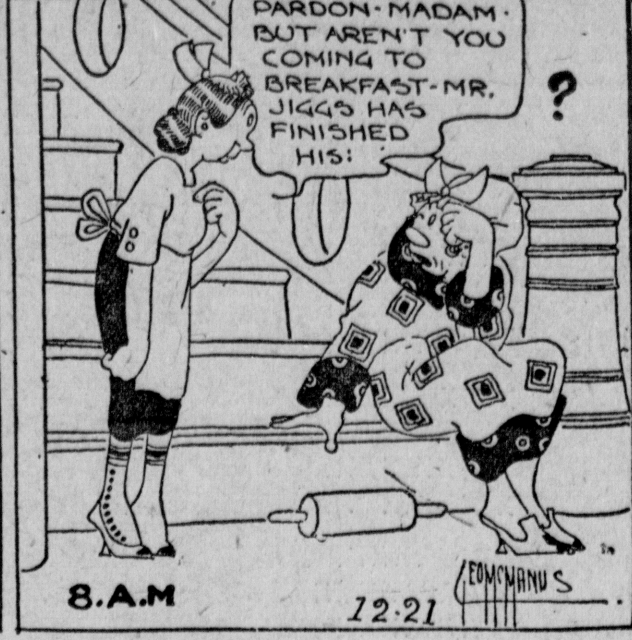

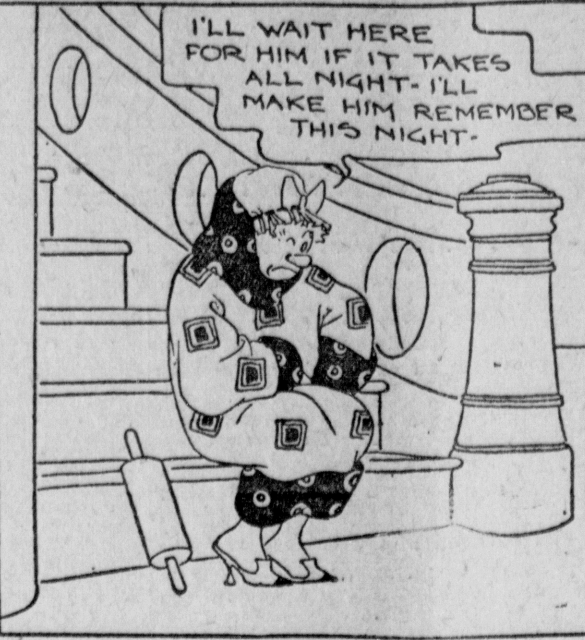

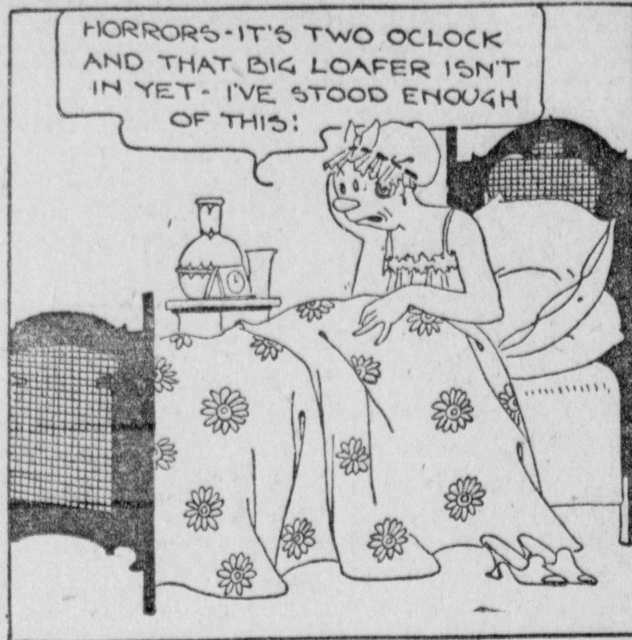

On Aug. 15, 1921, Mr. Jones confirmed the above statement by saying: "Doan's deserve the highest praise I can give them as they absolutely cured me of kidney trouble some years ago."

PLANNING THE CHRISTMAS DINNER

The following menu is for a conventional Christmas Dinner. It may be varied, however, to meet the individual pocket book. For instance, Roast Loin of Pork may be substituted for Turkey, accompanied by apple sauce. A clam or oyster soup may be served instead of plain clams and oysters (dropping the consommé in this case, of course) thus combining two courses. One or two of the vegetables may be omitted, and the Plum Pudding—delicious, but undeniably expensive when well made—may be left out as well. Few of us can afford the menu just as it stands, but I am giving it as a good model to go by.

- | | | |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------------------|-----------------|
| Celery | Oysters or Clams | Olives |
| Consomme | Roast Turkey, Sage-Onion Stuffing | Cranberry Sauce |
| White Potatoes, Boiled Onions | Squash, Turnip | Mince Pie |
| Apple Pie | Plum Pudding | Cheese |
| Coffee | Cider | Nuts |
| Candies | | |
- In many homes the goose is held in higher esteem than the turkey. The following menu is appropriate for a roast goose dinner:
- | | | |
|------------------------------------|--|-----------------------|
| Oyster Cocktails | Consomme | Celery |
| Ripe Olives | Roast Goose, Chestnut Stuffing, Giblet Gravy | Chantilly Apple Sauce |
| Sweet Potato | Buttered Onions | Orange Salad |
| Mince Pie | Queen of Puddings | Nuts, Candies |
| Chestnut Stuffing for Roast Goose: | | |

Cook 1 tablespoon of finely chopped onion in 1-4 cup of butter for 3 minutes without browning. Then add 1-2 pound sausage meat, continue cooking, 1 tablespoon finely chopped canned mushrooms, 1-2 cups of chestnut puree, 2-3 cup stale bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon minced chopped parsley, and season well with salt and pepper. Stir this mixture over fire till heated through then add 2-1-2 dozen whole shelled and blanched chestnuts. Cool before stuffing. (The chestnut puree is made simply by boiling the shelled nuts till tender then mashing them well.)

Chantilly Apple Sauce: Make apple sauce in the ordinary way, rub it through a sieve, and add to it 2-1-2 tablespoons powdered sugar and 5 tablespoons of fresh, grated horse-radish for every five medium-sized apples used in making the sauce. Just before serving fold into it an equal quantity of stiffly whipped cream.

Queen of Puddings: Cut toasted bread in half-inch cubes until you have a cupful. Beat the yolks of 3 eggs and white of 1 egg together and add to them 1 teaspoon of vanilla, 2 cups sweet milk and 1-4 cup granulated sugar. Pour this uncooked custard over the bread cubes and bake in a moderate oven till firm; remove from oven and cover the top with 1 cup of stewed, sweetened apples. Make a meringue of the remaining 2 egg whites and 1-4 cup of sugar, adding 1-4 teaspoon vanilla, and spread this over the stewed apples. Return dish to oven till meringue is browned, and serve hot with hard sauce or with cream.

THE NEW GENERATION

By Jane Phelps

TROUBLED—JOAN FLIES TO HER MOTHER CHAPTER 119

Margaret had been really shocked when Joan told her Dean Tennant had kissed her—that Malcolm had seen him. No wonder Malcolm was angry yet she had said nothing to Joan regarding the matter. It meant absolutely nothing to Joan, that she saw at once, that Malcolm should have realized that. Anyway she would not give it prominence by mentioning it again.

Joan came more often now to her mother's apartment. Sometimes she found her alone, and sometimes pouring tea for Craig Forrester, chatting about the latest novel, a new picture, a magazine story, or some bit of gossip in which both were interested. Margaret now felt a bit lonely when Joan was not with her, and encouraged Craig perhaps more than before. He, sure that as soon as Joan was married, perhaps before, he and Margaret could also marry was very content, and as Joan said, "Purred like a big tom cat."

"One would think he belonged here!" She said once after he had gone.

"I like to have him here, Joan," Margaret replied very quietly, "he interests and entertains me."

Margaret had been writing letters all the morning. She had not seen Joan for two days, and had planned to ride down to the studio on the bus as soon as she finished. The doorbell rang, and she heard a few mumbled words as Hannah opened the door, then Joan rushed in, her eyes red and swollen, her cheeks flushed.

"Why, Joan, what is it?" Margaret rose and took her into her arms, then led her to the couch, removed her hat, and put her arm about the trembling girl. "Now tell me."

"Oh, mother! A sob interrupted, "you won't think me quite a silly fool, will you? Please say you won't," she begged.

"Of course not, dear! Have I ever? I'm your mother, you know, and you can tell me anything." She pulled Joan's head with its disordered curls on to her shoulder.

"I know—but oh, Mum! You remember I told you the other day that it hurt to love—it never hurt to love you—but I guess it's because he's a man that it hurts." Margaret knew she referred to Malcolm and held her a bit more closely. The child was learning—the ternal question of man and woman had come to her. Perhaps Mumie, it was silly of me," Joan went on, "but I had to tell someone, and now that Dean and of course I couldn't tell him. The rest would only laugh at me."

Margaret smoothed the shining curls and waited.

"I've had an awful quarrel with Malcolm. It was silly, terribly silly. I didn't know I could be so rotten, or he so stubborn. He's going to give up his position in Wall Street—I am sure he'd be rich some day if he'd stayed there. And he's going to San Francisco. He had a chance when he came here, but took this one because of me. Now he's going away, and oh, Mumie, it hurts something awful."

"When is he going?"

"Right away. He said he wasn't, then he said if I didn't do what he wanted me to he would go."

"You love Malcolm don't you, Joan?"

"Love him! I just adore him. And I've tried my level best not to. I've even tried to hate him these last two days. But, Mumie, you won't think I'm a silly goose, will you? But I guess I have always loved Malcolm—even when we were just kids."

"I know he has always loved you, Joan. Now you are going to lie down in my room, and don't worry. Everything will come out all right."

Margaret went to the telephone and called Craig Forrester:

"Joan and Malcolm have quarreled."

"I know—Malcolm told me. That girl of yours makes me furious, Margaret. She's such a selfish little thing. Excuse me, Margaret, of course I'll help you, and I rather think I can. Oh, don't worry. Her heart won't break! Mine hasn't yet, and it's been cracked for months."

"Don't be silly, Craig. Find Malcolm and bring him up here with you. Try and come so they can have half an hour together before dinner."

"I'll promise if you will give me a half hour. I'm not working for nothing."

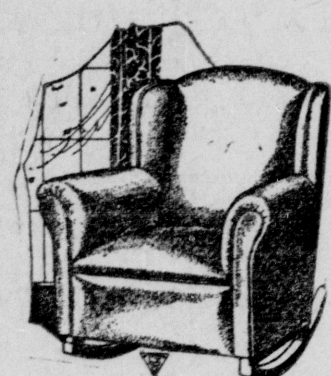

Tomorrow—Malcolm Confides in Craig Forrester.
